SHE WAS AWFUL

Angry, and she had good cause to be, for she had been terribly bamboozled.

"Look at that," she said, displaying a scraggy-looking fan. "They induced me to buy it by assuring me that it was just the same as I could get at the Dollar Store. Why, it isn't to be compared. Oh, the wretches. I—I—I'll," and here her voice began to quiver and her eyes to glisten with gathering tears.

It is but proper that we should draw the veil at this point, but the half-told incident will not the less serve to point a moral: Never accept as truth an assertion now so frequently made, that "This is just as good as you can get at the Dollar Store," but always satisfy yourself by investigation.

Terrible Explosion in a Philadelphia Planing Mill.

Five Persons Killed—Other Casualties Elsewhere.

By Western Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—The explosion of a boiler in Wilt's extensive planing mill, on Front and Brown streets, caused great consternation. The engine-house and a portion of the mill were blown in all directions, the flying bricks and iron doing much damage. Several dwelling-houses in the vicinity are wrecked. The dead body of the engineer has been taken from the ruins. The boiler, by the force of the explosion, was driven into the second story of the dwelling occupied by a family named Long. Claude Long, aged eight years, was killed, and his sister Stella, aged eleven years, was badly hurt. Their mother and Mrs. Ann McAvay are missing, and are believed to be buried in the ruins.

Imported Workmen Turned Home by the Strikers.

By Western Associated Press.

FALL RIVER, MASS., June 27.—The mills are all running this morning with the exception of the Narragansett, which shut down yesterday. Some of the mills gained a few spinners to-day and others lost, but on the whole there have been gains of ten pairs of mules. There is no intimidation by violence, but the manufacturers say threats are made, and a number of the men who were at work yesterday are out to-day, through fear. The men who came here have been turned home by the spinners. The depots are all watched, and imported help is solicited to return. A committee of spinners this morning waited on the Mayor, asking that the extra police be withdrawn from the streets and kept at a station where they could be readily called in case of a disturbance. The Mayor said he would try to act as a disinterested party during the strike but should preserve order, and the extra police were put on to prevent disturbances; the spinners would not be interfered with if they preserved order.

THE POPLAR STREET TRACK.

The Iron Mountain Railway to Use It Also.

Through an arrangement with the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Co. will on Sunday begin entering the Union Depot via the Poplar street track from Main street, the gauge of the latter road having been changed during the present month to admit of so doing. Under this new arrangement the traffic over Poplar street will be greatly increased, as six passenger trains will arrive and depart daily, and the danger to pedestrians and passing vehicles will be double what it is now. When it was first proposed to allow the Missouri Pacific Railway to extend its track for the transportation of coal trains down Poplar street, the proposition met with considerable opposition from the public, and largely attended mass meetings were held in protestation.

The question of bridging the street crossing Poplar from Main to Eighth street should now be in order and the Municipal Assembly entertain the matter without delay.

Last Day's Session of the Missouri State Teachers' Association.

Address by Hon. J. L. Denton on "Education in the South."

Essay on "Our Normals" by Prof. R. C. Norton.

Election of Officers—Reports of Committees—Adjournment.

Unpunctual as usual, the last day's session of the eighteenth annual convention of the Missouri State Teachers' Association commenced a few minutes before 10 o'clock, nearly one hour after the appointed hour. President Dutcher called the assembly to order. The report of the committee on nominations was received, and, after some discussion as to the power of nominating vice-presidents, the four names reported by the committee for that office were withdrawn, it having ascertained that the fourth amendment to the constitution of the association proposed and adopted at Carthage last year provided that "the presidents of the auxiliary associations shall be vice-presidents of the State association, and they, together with State superintendents of the public school, shall be ex-officio members of the executive committee."

The report of the committee was adopted and then Prof. Dutcher announced that for the following year would be:

THE OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

President—Prof. N. J. Morrison, of Springfield.

Vice-Presidents—G. L. Osborne, of the Northwest District Association; H. M. Hammell, of the Northeast District Association; J. M. Sheldon, of the Southeast District Association, and S. A. Underwood, of the Southwest District Association.

Recording Secretary—Prof. C. M. Woodward, of St. Louis.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Lou E. Philips, of California, Mo.

Treasurer—Miss Clara Heffman, of Kansas City.

Delegate to the National Association—Dr. S. S. Laws; alternate—Prof. G. L. Osborne.

Prof. Soldan, of the Committee on Time and Place, reported Columbia as the place, and Tuesday, June 22, next year, as the time for the next meeting of the association.

After a slight discussion, the report was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions was not ready to report.

President Dutcher then introduced

PROF. R. C. NORTON,

of Warrensburg, who read an essay upon "Our Normals." After referring to the progressiveness of the age, amongst other instances citing the latest improvement in newspapers—viz., cutting and pasting—and saying the only objection he had heard to this improvement was that it spoiled the papers for cutting polonaise patterns, Mr. Norton spoke of the educational excellence and superiority of Germany. Teachers required training for the requisites of their calling. The idea of normal schools first took root in the College of the Christian Brothers at Rheims. August Franck introduced them in Germany, where they rapidly developed. Dr. Julius came over from the Fatherland to study the prison discipline of this country, and impressed Dr. Brooks with the utility of the normal schools. He convinced Daniel Webster. John Quincy Adams and others of the good work they would accomplish if they succeeded in procuring a State Board of Education for Massachusetts, the secretary of which was Horace Mann. The normal school is the outgrowth of the public school. President Dwight gave $10,000 on condition that the Bay State Legislature would give a like sum to establish three normal schools in that commonwealth. His offer was accepted, and on July 3, 1837, at Lexington, the first normal school in America was established. In 1844 New York organized her first Normal School. Up to the year 1850 seven normal schools were established throughout the Union, from 1850 to 1860 twelve, from 1860 to 1870 fifty-two, and from 1870 to 1876 eighty. These employed 1,056 teachers and enrolled 33,921 pupils. Speaking of the proportion of female to male teachers, he said New York employed 3 females to one male; Maine, 4 females to 1 male; Massachusetts, 7 females to 1 male, while in the Western States the proportion of male teachers was much larger. In the schools of the States 8,887,308 pupils were enrolled, while the average number who received daily instruction was 4,248,848. According to the last census of the United States there were 5,683,237 persons who could not read or write. About 80 per cent of the population are educated; 887,527,271 were spent in the States for education annually, making the per capita cost $14.37 for all who attend any length of time, or $10 for every child enrolled in the public schools. For academic, college and university education the cost averages from $30 to $150, while normal schools average $20. In 1856 the question of normal schools was first agitated in this State, and in 1857 the first normal school was started. There are now three in the State of Missouri.

Mr. Norton quoted a number of statistics bearing on the subject, and closed his reading by paying a tribute to the good work normal schools had accomplished in the past, and the great field that was open for future operations.

There was to have been a discussion, led by Prof. Louis Soldan, on this paper, but, on account of lack of time, it was dispensed with.

THE HON. J. L. DENTON,

Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Alabama, was introduced by the President. The subject of Mr. Denton's address was "Education in the South." The gentleman is an eloquent, fluent and fervent speaker, and, although he spoke from notes, he occasionally branched out extempore, illustrating his theme with numerous anecdotes, which kept the large audience in continual laughterr Mr. Denton spoke for over one hour, and was listened to with marked attention. At the commencement of his address he said it would be necessary to refer to the cause of education in the South prior to the war. The hues of the present are not vivid without the background of the past. The efforts of the South in the cause of education before the war were neither highly creditable nor fruitful, but they were largely tentative and barren of results. This is frankly admitted by every candid observer. One hundred years back the South had constitutional provisions in some of the States providing for an educational policy. The Constitution of North Carolina, adopted 1777, contains the first recorded utterance of the State authorities on this important subject. The matter slumbered until 1816, because the necessary funds could not be raised. Until 1825 little was done, but from that time there was a gradual improvement. In 1840 the system assumed the shape it was in at the beginning of the war. The Constitution of Georgia, 1807, contained a declaration clearly and strongly favoring a system of education maintained by the State, but those provisions were not carried out for want of proper legislation. In 1817 a sum was appropriated for schools for the poor. Virginia and South Carolina presented strong resemblances; both had systems of free schools, but an unwise proviso limiting the fund to poor children had a tendency to alienate the wealthy classes and effectually obstruct legislation. Tennessee experimented for many years with clumsy efforts and defective machinery. Louisiana exhibited a commendable degree of educational enterprise while yet a territory, and subsequent effort fulfilled the promise of the encouraging beginning. But the first time the South had well organized, thoroughly equipped scho system was in 1867, although in Alabama in 1854 were inaugurated some excellent schools, and the schools of the South took rank with those of the North and East before the war. But there was no popular tie of public sympathy to impart vitality to the cause of education. The public school system was introduced into all the Southern States from 1868 to 1870. The adoption of the public school system was required by the general Government as a condition of re-admission into the Union. The war had been ruinous to the South, and cost it $1,400,000,000. The South felt a kind of natural repugnancy to the system, as it was, in a certain manner, forced upon them. In 1867 not a State in the South had a free school system. Just before that George Peabody donated $2,000,000, which for thirty years was to go for the use of free schools in the South. One million has already been spent, and accomplished much good. Since then there has been a gradual and steady growth, notwithstanding the scarcity and sometimes misappropriation of funds. Texas, whenever it got into a tight place financially, always found refuge in the funds for education by saying it was more necessary to protect public credit than to keep up the schools.

Mr. Denton then proceeded to give some hard raps to legislators. He said he was impressed by a remark of Henry Ward Beecher's in his lecture at Memphis last month. He said: "If you ever want to enjoy your meal in a hotel never go into the kitchen where it is cooked, and if you ever want to have any respect for the name of law, in the name of God, never look in on a legislature."

The speaker continued his address, interspersing it with humorous anecdotes, which convulsed his audience. After speaking of the rapid progress of the system of free schools in the South during the last eight years, he concluded by saying: "The outlook was never so encouraging as it is to-day."

The convention then adjourned until 2:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was occupied by an address by the Hon. Jas. P. Slade, superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Illinois, receiving the treasurer's report and the report of the committee on resolutions. The officers elect were then installed, after which a general discussion on the topic "An Educational Poll-Tax" followed. The completion of unfinished business concluded the session, and the association then adjourned, to meet on the 22d of June, next year, at Columbia, Mo.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Senator Vest's resolution declaring in favor of free coinage and the remonetization of silver was taken up.

During the debate Messrs. Kernan, Ferry and Allison protested against this method of instructing the Finance Committee. There was not time this session to mature a measure vitally affecting the whole financial system and indirectly the industries of the country; hence the silver bill should have been postponed, but not indefinitely. The committee was pledged to act on them early in December.

Mr. Vest called attention to the fact that the resolution was solely an expression of opinion to show the country how the Senate stood. It required no present action.

Mr. Houston advocated the resolution.

Mr. Allison moved to refer the resolution to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Maxey opposed the motion to refer. This was a mere expression of abstract opinion. The Finance Committee had nothing to do with it and could not report on it.

Mr. Allison further objected that the resolution looked to unlimited coinage, which would drive gold out of the country and flood the United States with European bullion.

After a further debate Mr. Vest offered the following as a substitute for his first resolution, to obviate any criticism as to the wording:

Resolved, That the complete remonetization of silver and its restoration to a perfect equality with gold, both as coin and bullion, are demanded alike by the dictates of justice and wise statesmanship.

The morning hour expiring, the resolution goes over until to-morrow.

The resolution providing additional pay for Congressional employes was again taken up.

The amendments of Messrs. Wallace and Ingalls, forming the old judicial expenses bill, the political assessments bill, etc., were withdrawn by unanimous consent.

The resolution passed as reported from the committee with slight amendments.

Mr. Eaton reported from the Committee on Appropriations without amendments the judicial expenses appropriation bill passed yesterday by the House. He said there would be no attempt by the majority to shorten the debate, and a night session would not be forced. The bill was then considered.

House.

The morning hour private business was dispensed with, and the House went into committee of the whole on the bill appropriating $800,000 to pay the fees of United States Marshals and their general deputies.

The general debate on the bill was limited to one hour. The debate was opened by Mr. Garfield, who grouped some of the leading points made during the present session on the Democratic side. These propositions were that there are no national elections; that the United States have no voters; that the States exclusively have the right to control the election of members of Congress; that Senators and Representatives are State officers, agents or ambassadors; that the United States have no authority to keep peace within the State and have no "peace to keep;" that the United States is not a nation but a confederacy of States; and, finally, that the States are sovereign. He declared that these propositions constituted the body of a doctrine more extreme than had ever been heard of before except at the very crisis of secession. He believed those doctrines to be erroneous and vicious, and he proceeded to lay down and to support by argument counter propositions. Mr. Garfield went on to show the fallacy of the idea that the States are sovereign, and declared that the question had been decided in the negative, not only by the Supreme Court in a long line of decisions, but also by the great arbitrament of war; but that now it seemed that the question was not to be allowed to stay settled, for the people had been told recently in the South that the "Lost Cause" was not lost, and that the men who had fought against the Union were not in conspiracy against it. In conclusion he predicted that the bill which had been before wrecked in another bulk was about starting out on a short, disastrous, and ignoble voyage.

Mr. Hurd then took the floor to reply to Mr. Garfield.

Mr. Hurd in his speech recapitulated the principal points for which the Democratic party had been contending, and, in conclusion, appealed confidently to the patriotism of the country. If on those issues the Republican party were to be successful, such a result would mean the end of the Republic and the uplifting of [illegible]

Could there be any doubt as to the result of such a controversy? In [illegible] any one France the result might [illegible] could not [illegible] here. Liberty could not perish on its own threshold and at its own firesider the people and the future protested against it, and what was of more practical value, the Democratic party protested. He could hear the matter ing of the Anglo-Saxon resolve against it; he could hear the tread of legions forming with the banners of civil liberty above them. The contest was already begun, and God would give the victory to freedom and right. The speech was frequently and enthusiastically applauded on the Democratic side.

Found Dead.

While patrolling his beat about 5:30 o'clock this morning Officer Gannon found a dead man lying on the pavement on the levee between Walnut and Market streets. The body was taken to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held late this afternoon. The man is not known to any one in the vicinity. He wore a black soft hat, a brown woolen shirt, a pair of brown jeans pants and boots. Nothing was found on his person to identify him.

INDICATIONS.

By Western Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—For Tennessee and Ohio Valley, westerly winds, cloudy weather and numerous light rains, followed by slightly cooler, clearing weather and stationary or higher pressure. For Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys, southwest to northwest winds, cloudy weather and numerous rains, stationary or slightly higher pressures, possibly followed by clearing, cooler weather. For Upper Lake Region, southwest to northwest winds, stationary temperatures and pressures, partly cloudy weather and occasional rains. For Lower Lake Region, southwest winds, possibly increasing to brisk or high, falling barometer, cloudy weather and numerous local rains or storms, possibly followed by lower temperature and clearing weather, with higher pressure. Rivers will generally change but slightly, except, possibly, a rise above La Crosse, and the Missouri will continue near the danger line at Omaha.

THERE are several indications in the country press that either the literary bureau or the barrel has been opened again.

GENERAL EWING made a very good speech last evening. We are glad to see that he has taken our advice and does not make the Ohio idea on finances the issue of the campaign. In fact, he does not even allude to it.

ON the 4th of March, 1881, the Republicans will have enjoyed the immense power and patronage of the Executive departments for twenty consecutive and most important years. A change seems absolutely necessary.

THE dirty alleys of the city have been pretty thoroughly cleaned by the copious showers of the last few days, which at least is some consolation for the general damage done to growing crops in the surrounding rural districts from the same element.

THERE is a vast difference between those who, as a principle, are in favor of a double standard and the coinage of silver equal to gold, and those who want unlimited silver coinage without [illegible] reference to the ratio of [illegible] or the condition of the rest of the world.

THE Westliche Post thinks it is a shame that a man like Mr. Clardy should represent the First Congressional District, but strangely enough charges the Globe-Democrat people with the responsibility for it. Our esteemed German contemporary is very vigorous in denouncing the conduct of that paper.

ONE of the pleasant political recreations of the summer will be the investigation of Mr. Ingalls' election to the Senate. A subcommittee of the Senate with Mr. Saulsbury as chairman will go out to Kansas in course of the next month. The result will be interesting and cause a resignation or expulsion.

THE Amerika generally hits the nail on the head. Speaking about Mr. Bingham's letter, published in the POST-DISPATCH, our German contemporary says that "Mr. Bingham, by his fanaticism, overshoots the mark, and that whoever reads his letter must take part for the man who is so infamously slandered—General Ewing."

EVERY hard-money Democrat in the land will be glad to extend his influence in favor of Tom Ewing's election if that gentleman will ma[illegible] on the proper issues—[illegible] self-government, a [illegible] Congress and a free people, against a [illegible]natical but dangerous minority, that, to [illegible]eserve power, is ready to ruin the Re[illegible]blic.

FOR the benefit of all whom it may concern and who would like to make the acquaintance of that much spoken of barrel, we will state that a gentleman by the classic name of Henry Clay Conde, a lawyer of this city, is, and for years has been, Mr. Tilden's confidential agent in this city. We suppose he has charge of the whole trans-Mississippi department.

OUR esteemed Republican contemporary evidently does not like John B. Henderson. And yet the only mean thing we ever heard about him is that he favors John Sherman for the Presidency. Mr. Henderson need not pay any attention to the Globe-Democrat, but if he cares anything about his reputa[illegible] should deny the rumor that he is in [illegible] such an unmitigated political ras[illegible]hn Sherman.

[illegible] Society for the Prevention of [illegible] to Animals might appropri[illegible] inquire into the barbarous [illegible]r in which many horses are [illegible]n this city. We know of no good rea[illegible] why a horse should be forced to take his dinner with an air-tight feed-bag around his nose and mouth. This cruelty is not only unnecessary, but it is known that many equine diseases result from the barbarous practice.

WE are gratified to learn that ample preparations are being made for the proper reception of the Arkansas editors, who will arrive in St. Louis on the morning of the 2nd of July. It may be surprising to many people to know that Arkansas boasts of more newspapers than any other Southern [illegible]te. But such [illegible] fact. And we may [illegible] that [illegible] among its members some most intelligent editors. The entire State of Arkansas, in a trade view, is tributary to St. Louis, and its representative journalists are entitled to courtesy at the hands of all our people.

A PROPER celebration of the Fourth will bring to St. Louis thousands of visitors who would otherwise not come. Proper encouragement should be given to those gentlemen who are engaged in the effort to secure a grand military display on the national holiday. This is not the only reason, however, why the military should turn out on the Fourth; there are others which may have a direct bearing upon the peace of society, which many people believe will depend greatly upon the continued organization of a formidable State militia. The appeal made by the commanding officers for the necessary financial aid should meet with generous response.

THE St. Louis POST-DISPATCH is a mighty good paper, but there is a little too much Bayard dictatorship about its presidential preference. Can't the P.-D. fall in love with a man more in sympathy with Western financial ideas? Needn't just exactly give Bayard the mitten, but meet him less frequently and less affectionately at the White House garden gate, and take a fellow with some silver threads among the gold.—[Louisiana Journal.

We are in favor of silver and a bi-metallic standard, whatever Mr. Bayard or Bismarck may think about it. If Mr. Bayard should not receive the Democratic nomination we will survive and support whoever should become the Democratic standard-bearer. But we do think that the party could hardly do better than place that standard into the hands of the man who does not seek it—does not stoop or pay or intrigue for it, and whose purity of character looms way above the ordinary scheming politician.

REPUBLICAN FALSEHOODS.

The Republican party of Maine met on yesterday, nominated a candidate for Governor and adopted a platform of principle. It is quite interesting to learn what the Republican party means and believes. The platform, probably written by Mr. Blaine, commences with the assertion:

That this country is a "nation" and not a confederacy of States, and the National Government is supreme on all subjects lodged with it by the Constitution.

Every word of which we emphatically believe. But it ill becomes a Republican platform to declare this sentiment when every effort of every Republican leader, of every Republican journal, of every Republican policy or measure is openly and zealously directed to destroy the nation and make it only a "confederacy" of warring sections and States. A nation is only possible where there is harmony and unity among the people, where there is perfect equality among all the States and all the people. But the Republican party to-day—in teaching that the South cannot be trusted; that the Southern people shall and must not have their just and equal share in [illegible]ning themselves and the nation; that there must be a pr[illegible]al division of the Union into a solid North and solid South; that the memories of the late war must never be forgotten; that the political party which comprises an overwhelming majority of the people is dangerous and treasonable; that any violation of law or any fraud or force is justifiable to keep that party out of power; that, in short, this country must be governed by the Republican party, which has no practical existence in sixteen States of the Union, and is purely a sectional, not a national party—is the worst and most violent enemy of the "This is a Nation" doctrine.

On the contrary, It is anti-national in every respect. "This country is the North, and not a Nation," is what it really means. This Government is a "Government of the Republican party, and not of States," is what it should have said in its platform.

But let us continue to quote from this interesting platform:

It recognizes the right and duty of the National Government to protect the citizen in the exercise of all his constitutional and legal rights, none of which are more important than a free, fair ballot, uninfluenced by fraud or violence.

But what did the 26,000 jail-bird marshals at the last election except this very thing—prevent a fair and free ballot? What did Mr. Davenport in New York except to issue over ten thousand warrants to terrify and prevent as many votes, without a shadow of ground, as even Republican Judges have decided? Who committed the greatest frauds in elections ever known in the history of this country? Who sent soldiers to the South to enable Returning Boards to perpetrate the crime of stealing the votes of three States—a crime which even the fraudulent President himself has had to acknowledge and admit by utterly repudiating the action of all three Returning Boards in every respect except as to his own case? Who drew over a half million of dollars out of the public treasury to prostitute the ballot box by selecting from the very scum of the large cities 26,000 of the lowest and vilest jail-birds to work for the Republican ticket?

It believes that existing laws for the protection of American citizens should not be repealed, and it condemns as revolutionary the attempts of the Democratic party in Congress to force the Executive to consent to such repeal by threats of refusal of appropriations necessary for the existence of the Government.

This simply reverses the case. Precisely the opposite is the truth. The "refusal of appropriations necessary for the existence of the Government" came from the Executive, not Congress. On the contrary, Congress granted these appropriations three times in succession, and the fraudulent Executive, at the risk of blocking the wheels of Government, refused them thrice upon the sole and avowed ground that Congress must legislate, not at their own free will, but at his, and that he can compel by dictation appropriations intended for fraud and force at the polls.

It appreciates the noble and patriotic position taken by President Hayes and the Republican members of both houses of Congress in sustaining wise and just laws against the treasonable and revolutionary course of the Democratic party in Congress, and it hereby pledges them its hearty support in their efforts to uphold the financial credit of the Government, and to insist upon free elections and the right of the United States to enforce its own laws.

The "United S[illegible] the American Congress, and the great right of this American Congress, representing the American people, to "enforce its own laws," is now assailed by the Republican party. For if the law-making and money-controlling branch of the Government must follow the impertinent dictation of one man, what laws it must pass, what laws it must repeal, what laws it must not repeal, or for what purposes it must grant moneys and for what it must not—this is no longer a Congress of free men in a free country.

It protests against the reopening by Democratic leaders of exciting and sectional issues which had been settled by the victory of the national arms over the rebellion, and calls upon loyal men everywhere to sustain, by their votes, the fruits of that victory.

But this is a mistake again. The Republican party calls upon the voters, or "loyal men," not to preserve the "fruits" of that victory over the rebellion, but to throw those dearly-purchased achievements away or trample upon them.

One great object and result of the war was peace.

But the Republicans all determinedly cry out that there must be no peace with the South.

Another great "fruit" of the war was the restoration of the Union.

But the Republicans strive indirectly but surely at the destruction of the Union when they appeal for its division by a sectional line.

Another great result was the preservation of the republic.

But the Republicans, falsely so-called, threaten it as seriously by fraudulent elections and the army of office-holders, bayonets, bullying Marshals, bankers, the power of corrupting corporations, the doctrine of the one man power in the White House, the denial of the rights of Congress, the contempt for the will of the people and the laws of the land, and its unconcealed lust for a third term and a "strong, centralized," semi-military government, as the rebels of 1860 ever did.

The rebels of 1860 were at least open and manly. Those of 1880 are hypocritical, selfish and all the more dangerous.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

Colman's Rural World: The speculators seem to have got a corner on corn and are holding it up. They had better let it go, or some of them will get bit. The prospects are now favorable for a very large crop this year. When it comes to buying the growing crop from the farmers, we will warrant it will be low enough, for the speculators will want to make a big thing again, as they have done on last year's crop.

Columbus (O.) Journal (Rep.): Five months ago Allan G. Thurman was recognized throughout the country as the probable Democratic nominee for President in 1880. To-day he is scarcely thought of in that connection. And the sad thing about it is that Thurman himself has wrought this change. He became "King of the Caucus," substituted strife for harmony, forced an extra session of Congress, and has kept the country in turmoil for weeks and months; and now he lies as low as Julius Cæsar.

New York Evening Telegram (Ind.): We are pleased to believe that the men at the South who represent property, enterprise, industry and trade, are keenly alive to the pernicious effects of such absurd harangues as the one delivered by Jeff Davis before the press meeting in Mississippi. If Mr. Davis would take a solemn vow never again to make a speech—if he would retire to his plantation and pass the balance of his natural life in weaving chaplets for the "honored brow" of his beloved Mississippi—he would render that State an infinite service.

Chicago Tribune (rab. Rep.): The trimming and pettifogging of the Democratic managers in Washington can scarcely fail to excite the disgust of the entire country. Had the Democrats proceeded with their original design, they could at least have claimed the courage of their convictions and exacted such respect as is usually extended to such an exhibition, however misguided. When they discovered that they were running counter to public sentiment, the principles of a free and representative Government demanded that they should completely abandon their scheme and submit the issue to a vote of the people.

Cincinnati Commercial (rab. Rep.): If just now we are not to consider that repudiation is the essential essence of the Democratic creed, then denationalism is so, for we find Southern Senators and Representatives contending that the responsibility of enforcing the constitutional amendments rests with the States alone; that the United States troops must be very carefully handled so as not to offend the States, and especially the States that were in rebellion; that the United States courts must be subordinated to the State courts, and that the Nation shall not have any rights that the States are bound to respect.

Chicago Times (Dem.): The statesman has yet to appear who will display the courage of a true leader upon this portentous question by proposing a reform of our civil service that will go to the bottom of the disease, by reforming the system of official tenures, releasing them from dependency on the success of party, and making them dependent only on efficient and faithful discharge of public duty. The party has yet to appear whose leaders can lay claim to something more than the empty pretense of patriotism by leading honestly to the consummation of the reform of our damnable civil service system, which the Tilden party platform of 1876 proclaimed so loudly and truly to be necessary to good government.

SENATOR VEST'S SPEECH.

Opinions of the Country Press.

Missouri has been represented in the United States Senate for a number of years by monuments of stupidity, but at last has a Senator that will win golden opinions from the press all over the East, whose criticisms make or damn the man of to-day. Mr. Vest is a Democrat, and a radical Democrat, and for that can be liked by such men as Blaine and other leading Republicans, who admire him as one brave man admires another. Mr. Vest's wonderful powers of oratory can secure for him a hearing at any time, and the Senator from Missouri is certainly a rising man.—[Moberly Headlight.

Senator Vest is fast gaining a prominent position at Washington. He is respected wherever he is known, and will yet demonstrate that he deserves the title of "Missouri's Little Giant." Missouri will never regret the day when she chose him for her Senator.—[Cass County Times.

As every one knows who knows anything about Vest at all, no fight could ebb and flow long about him without his being in the very heat and thick of it. He is in many respects an antique man. He hates shams and frauds, and his speech is always frank and generous. If he thought there was a drop of demagogue blood in his veins, he would open them and let it out. No man is braver, truer, opener, more of charity, more conservative and deferential; and yet, no man alive will go further for a friend, or stand longer to a cause, or go to a greater extreme in his devotion to a creed, a party or a political principle. His speech on the negro exodus, published in yesterday's Democrat, has taken the East by storm. Nearly every single prominent journal speaks of it, if not with the highest commendation, at least with the most respectful criticism.—[Sedalia Democrat.

Thurman pronounced Vest's speech at the Ewing banquet the best ten minutes' speech he ever heard. Thurman has heard all the orators, and ought to be a judge. We predict that the "Little Giant" will show up his fine Italian hand next winter. All the boys will be standing on their hind legs and howling for Vest.—[Warrensburg-Journal Democrat.

A BETTER SHOWIN[G]

The Business of St. Louis Compared With Other Cities.

How St. Louis Has Beat Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and New York.

Interviews With Representative Bankers.

St. Louis Now on the High Road to Prosperity.

On yesterday, in proof of the steady growth of business in St. Louis, the POST-DISPATCH presented a carefully prepared table, showing the percentage of increase in the Clearing-house returns. To-day there is given a table showing comparative percentages of increase or decrease in clearing-house returns for four months beginning with January, 1879, for the cities of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis. This city is compared with these others because they are the leading cities of the country. A comparison between St. Louis and the other important trade centers of the country would be still more to the credit of St. Louis. The figures of the subjoined table show that for January, February and March St. Louis went far ahead of Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, and ran up close to New York. When it is taken into consideration that the financial transactions of Chicago are largely speculative, this showing is certainly most gratifying. With all the boasted enterprise of Chicago, St. Louis went ahead of her in the increase of clearing-house returns for the first four months of 1879, and beat New York for the month of April.

For the week ending January 4, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, decrease	.3
Boston, decrease	10.2
Philadelphia, decrease	11.6
Chicago, increase	11.8
St. Louis, decrease	4.6

For the week ending January 11, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	5.1
Boston, decrease	4.4
Philadelphia, decrease	12.4
Chicago, decrease	3.1
St. Louis, increase	14.3

For the week ending January 19, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	14.6
Boston, decrease	8.6
Philadelphia, decrease	14.4
Chicago, decrease	2.2
St. Louis, increase	32.2

For the week ending January 25, 1879:

	Per cent.
Yew York, increase	34.2
Boston, decrease	1.2
Philadelphia, increase	1.6
Chicago, increase	9.7
St. Louis, increase	38.5

Totals for the month of January, 1879:

	Per Cent.
New York, increase	24.7
Boston, decrease	12.7
Philadelphia, decrease	7.4
Chicago, increase	4.7
St. Louis, increase	20.5

For the week ending February 8, 1878:

	Per Cent.
New York, increase	43.3
Boston, increase	7.1
Philadelphia, increase	21.5
Chicago, decrease	.5
St. Louis, increase	23.9

For the week ending February 15, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	31.9
Boston, increase	13.1
Philadelphia, increase	4.7
Chicago, increase	9.1
St. Louis, increase	21.5

For the week ending February 27, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	52.4
Boston, increase	32.5
Philadelphia, increase	13.2
Chicago, increase	1.6
St. Louis, increase	17.5

Totals for the month of February, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	37.7
Boston, increase	16.0
Philadelphia, [illegible]	6.8
Chicago, increase	7.3
St. Louis, increase	19.0

For the week ending March 8, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	32.9
Boston, increase	14.0
Philadelphia, increase	9.8
Chicago, increase	17.3
St. Louis, increase	30.3

For the week ending March 15, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, decrease	.3
Boston, increase	4.8
Philadelphia, decrease	.6
Chicago, increase	13.1
St. Louis, increase	26.0

For the week ending March 22, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	11.0
Boston, increase	6.0
Philadelphia, increase	4.5
Chicago, increase	10.0
St. Louis, increase	35.1

Totals for the month of March, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	24.8
Boston, increase	1.2
Philadelphia, increase	.2
Chicago, increase	7.3
St. Louis, increase	21.4

For the week ending April 5, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	4.4
Boston, decrease	8.9
Philadelphia, increase	3.9
Chicago, increase	33.3
St. Louis, increase	9.1

For the week ending April 12, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	10.9
Boston, increase	15.7
Philadelphia, decrease	3.4
Chicage, increase	6.3
St. Louis, increase	27.1

For the week ending April 19, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	14.5
Boston, increase	7.2
Philadelphia, increase	39.2
Chicago, increase	12.7
St. Louis, increase	17.1

For the week ending April 26, 1879:

	Per cent.
New York, increase	20.0
Boston, increase	15.2
Philadelphia, increase	20.2
Chicago, increase	15.8
St. Louis, increase	24.8

Figures do not lie. St. Louis people do not boast and brag as much as Chicago people, but the commercial growth of St. Louis is on a better basis than that of Chicago, and has been three per cent greater for the past six months. The above table shows that the increase of clearing-house returns at St. Louis for the first four months of 1879 has been greater than that of Chicago. There are other things of a similar character that might be referred to. For instance, Boston, the Eastern depot for the shipment of boots and shoes west, last year shipped 23,183 cases of goods to M. D. Wells & Co., the leading boot and shoe dealers of Chicago, and 25,017 cases to Hamilton, Brown & Co., of St. Louis. Other examples of the same kind are numerous.

A reporter has called on some of the bankers and asked their views about the trade of the past season and the prospects for the future.

MR. CHARLES PARSONS,

president of the State Savings Association, said: "I believe the volume of business has been greater for the past six months than for the same time last year. This is shown by the increase in the clearing-house returns. I think business is being done on a smaller margin but is in a safer condition. Money is plenty and rates lower than ever before. I think there will be a better demand for money this fall than for some time, and that business will be largely increased."

MR. WM. H. BURNHAM,

president of the Bank of Commerce, said: "Business depends upon the crops, and, unfortunately, somewhat upon politics, but the prospect now is good. There has lately been an increase in the price of raw material, such as cotton, wool and leather, and this will have an advantageous effect. Prices of real estate are bound to improve very soon. I have just been East, and I could hardly believe ex-Governor E. D. Morgan when he told me at what figures desirable property in New York is being held. The general outlook is encouraging."

MR. WM. H. THOMPSON,

cashier of the Boatmen's Savings Bank, said: "There has not been a great increase in the volume [illegible]tter basis. Banks have got their [illegible] condition, but the banks are not making [illegible]ch money. The tendency is to cheap [illegible]ney. I do not think the banks ever did as [illegible]fe a business as they are doing now. There is plenty of money, and first-class paper can get it at cheap rates. The banks have loaned more money for the first six months of this year than for the same period last year. I think the prospects are excellent."

EAST ST. LOUIS.

Arrival of Mennonites—A Confidence Game—Police Items.

A few days ago a granger named James Dell arrived in East St. Louis, and informed the police that he was the victim of a confidence game. A stranger whose acquaintance he made on the train had borrowed $15 from him to redeem some baggage and failed to ever return. Two suspicious looking individuals were arrested, but the victim could not be found to identify and prosecute them; so when the time for confinement on suspicion had expired the police released the men. They gave their names as John Manning and Wm. Brunson. After they were freed they started up the country together. Brunson, believing that he was out of the woods, began to crow. He accused Manning of giving him away, and, to make known his dislike for that way of doing business, seized him by the throat and attempted to choke him. Yesterday they returned to East St. Louis. When they arrived at the Relay Depot Manning called Dan Hanifan, a special policeman, and told him that Brunson, whose real name was Barry, was a thief and confidence man, and that there was a reward of $100 for his capture and return to Omaha, where he was wanted for jumping his bail. The men were both arrested. Brunson again occupies his cell, while Manning, whose incarceration the Doctor protested against, as he is unwell, is in the custody of Officer Coffey. Capt. Renshaw has telegraphed to Omaha and will take no steps until he receives an answer.

A reporter this morning met Albert Volkman, who was discharged by 'Squire Guentz in the Wider conspiracy trouble yesterday. He expressed it as his intention to sue for false imprisonment

Andrew Marshall and George Wenkler, under sentence of imprisonment for life and for fourteen years respectively, passed through East St. Louis this morning on their way to Joliet. Marshall was cool and collected, and asserted that he was innocent of the crime, while Wenkler, whose whole frame shook with fear, answered, "Yes, you are, ain't you?" Mrs. Marshall, the sentenced man's wife, went to St. Louis this morning, and took with her an amount of baggage.

'Squire Graney this morning fined C. W. Hull $25 and costs for carrying concealed weapons.

The City Court will adjourn for the term today. This morning motions for a new trial in the cases of Julia Prentiss vs. Louisa St. John, and Joseph Delabre vs. the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, were argued.

An extra emigrant Vandalia train, bringing 100 Mennonites west, arrived this morning.

ST. LOUIS AND NEW ORLEANS FAST MAIL STEAMERS.

Parties Agree to Demonstrate That They Can Build Them—Col. Price Accepts the Proposition.

In view of the many conflicting statements that have been made regarding the important project of introducing a fast mail line of steamers on the Mississippi to ply between St. Louis and New Orleans, the following copy of a document, signed by the parties interested an hour or two since, will be read with much interest in transportation circles:

ST. LOUIS, June 27, 1879.

Col. J. B. Price:

DEAR SIR:—I and those I propose to associate with me will build, equip and put in running order six fast mail and passenger steamers, with sufficient speed and capacity to carry the mails, passengers, express freight and a limited amount of through freight, and to run the same between St. Louis and New Orleans, performing all the mail service required by your contract with the Government, and transfer to you one-eighth of the stock or net profits of the company, in consideration that you convey to us the mail contract you hold with the Government, when we demonstrate that our arrangements are such that we will be able to perform what I have herein proposed to do. Respectfully submitted for your consideration.

Respectfully yours, etc.,
J. H. BALDWIN.

I accept the above proposition.

MISSOURI NEWS NOTES.

Efforts are being made to reorganize the Monroe county fair.

Boone county papers report the wheat crop of that county as being over an average.

Nearly two hundred car-loads of ties were recently shipped from Sturgeon in two weeks' time, and, says the Leader, they were hardly missed.

At Harrisonville, on the evening of June 23, a colored tramp shot a ten-year-old son of a Mr. Parrott. The boy is not expected to live. The perpetrator of the deed has not yet been captured.

It is said that the Missouri River, which some year ago left Brunswick, is gradually working its way back and usurping the Grand, whose modest waves wash the feet of Brunswick at the present time.

A little son of Milton Newsom was killed by a suckling colt, near Florida, several days ago. The little fellow struck the colt with his hat, when it kicked him in the head, breaking his skull, from which the brain oozed out.—[Sturgeon Leader.

Four attempts at house-breaking and burglary were made in Sedalia on Monday night. The work was evidently done by a gang, as the houses entered were in different parts of the city. Small sums of money, clothing and provisions were stolen. No clue has yet been discovered of the guilty parties.

At the recent commencement of the State University there were eighteen graduates in the regular Academic College, seventeen in the Normal College; five in the Agricultural College, eight in the College of Engineering, two in the School of Mines and Metallurgy, thirteen in the Law College and six in the Medical College.

The La Plata Home Press says: Philander Mormon and a young man named Golden have been arrested and committed to the Linneus jail, charged with the murder of Stephen and William Cahoon, of Macon County. Mormon is a step-son of old Cahoon, and Golden is a sweetheart of Mormon's sister. It is said that circumstantial evidence is strong against them.

Warrensburg can now step forward and take the first place upon the roll of honor. A week ago the savings bank closed its doors, with the usual promise that all deposits should be paid and not one creditor lose a cent. The fulfillment of the promise, of course, was not expected, but, contrary to all expectations, the bank opened its doors Thursday, and is now paying off all claims as fast as presented. Perhaps one reason of the bank's honesty is that the cashier, Mr. Morrow, is a newspaper man.

Hannibal Herald: Mr. C. E. Gray is in our city as the representative of wealthy St. Louis gentlemen who are able and willing to give us water-works, if we will pay for them. In looking over this matter with the City Council, it soon became apparent that the city government could not afford to pay much for water-works. If then we were to have them the revenue must come largely from the consumers. Those who want to know how we are to pay for the water-works thus see that it is by subscribing for the use of water. The introduction of these works will be a saving to the city government of several thousand dollars in their fire department. This will enable the city to give something for water-works, but it is not much, and of itself would induce no company to build.

Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.): The new American Cable Company have made all their arrangements for laying their cable, and, judging from the programme, a revolution in submarine telegraphy will be accomplished. There will be laid 7,000 miles of cables. One powerful cable will be laid from New York to mid-ocean; there it will branch off to different European countries, saving the necessity of a number of cables and land lines, the whole cost being $15,000,000 for what would cost $50,000,000 by the old method. By the use of newly invented instruments, a working speed eight times greater than under the old system will be obtained. The tariff for messages will never exceed twelve and a half cents a word, and will probably be reduced to ten cents a word.

A SPIRITUAL WEDDING.

Marriage of a Lady who Died Thirty Years Ago to a Gentleman who Had been Dead Twenty-five.

Both Spirits Materialize Themselves and Converse with the Company.

Most Wonderful Manifestations on Record.

[From the Leavenworth Times.

A series of spiritual manifestations which completely eclipse anything of the kind heretofore recorded recently occurred in this city. The Eddy brothers, Prof. Slade, the Davenports and other well-known mediums have from time to time astonished the world with their unaccountable demonstrations, but nothing ever produced by any of these can compare in wonder and beauty and marvelousness with the materializations which have been witnessed in Leavenworth during the past week. The occasion referred to was a

STRICTLY PRIVATE

affair, and for this reason we have not referred to it sooner, though we have been in possession of all the main facts since last Saturday; now, however, since the matter is being talked about by everybody, and since idle gossip is giving to the affair a thousand false and ludicrous features, it is entirely proper for us to give a correct version of the transaction, in order to correct the many absurd rumors in regard to it, as well as to put on record this latest and greatest achievement in the line of

SPIRIT MATERIALIZATION.

It is well known to the public that Colonel Eaton, of this city, is a spiritualist; and in this, as in everything else, he is thorough—he does no half-way business. He is well known, not only to the people of Kansas, but to the people of the country generally. The prominent part he has acted in American politics—being now, as for many years past, a member of the National Democratic Committee—has made his name familiar to the people of the country. For years past he and his wife have been firm and consistent believers in the spiritualistic philosophy. They have made frequent visits to the residence of Prof. Mott, the celebrated materializing medium, at Memphis, Mo., and while there Col. Eaton has received proofs of the reality of which, if true—and he has no reason to doubt them—ought to convince any rational man that those who have "shuffled off this mortal coil" do not only still live, but have the power of appearing to and conversing with their friends in the flesh. He has had satisfactory interviews with Gov. Wilson Shannon, Col. Isacks and many others—names which, in the past, were familiar to the people of Kansas, but which now

THE FUTURE LIFE,

"Have been carved for many a year,
On the tomb."

Having been intimately acquainted and associated with these gentlemen, politically and socially, during life, he naturally feels implicitly confident of his ability to recognize their identity, and the proof being such as the judgment cannot resist, it must be admitted by believers and unbelievers alike, that his belief in the reality of the demonstrations he has witnessed is, to say the least, not at all surprising. During one of the visits referred to Mr. and Mrs. Eaton saw and conversed with their daughter Katie, who died at the age of three weeks, and who has now been

THIRTY YEARS IN THE SPIRIT LAND.

At many subsequent meetings they saw her, and conversed freely with her, and she was also seen by many other visitors, some from this city, whose names might be given to substantiate the report if any additional evidence were necessary. During one of their interviews above referred to, the young lady informed her parents that she had long been

ENGAGED TO BE MARRIED

to Benjamin Pierce, a son of the late Franklin Pierce, and who died, or rather, entered the spirit life, while his father was President of the United States, and had been in the spirit land about twenty-five years. She communicated to her parents all the details of the affair, telling them when and where the ceremony was to be performed, and making arrangements to have the wedding supper and party at the residence of her parents, in this city. She informed them that would be the 20th of June, and that if the proper facilities were afforded them she and her husband would visit her parents the same day, and be with them at the wedding supper in their own house. Accordingly, before the appointed time arrived, all the necessary arrangements had been perfected. A cabinet, for the accommodation of the medium, was prepared. Prof. Mott and his wife came over from Memphis, Dr. Dooley came up from Kansas City, and everything was made ready for the interesting occasion. On the evening above named there assembled at the residence of Col. Eaton a select company, consisting of the distinguished mediums above named, the immediate members of the family, Col. H. D. Mackay, late president of the Alliance Life Insurance Company, and possibly one or two others. The wedding feast was prepared, and the guests were on hand at the appointed hour. The room was partially darkened and Prof. Mott took his place in the cabinet. Owing to the unusual force required to materialize two forms at the same time, Dr. Dooley also took a seat in the cabinet along with the professor. The table was spread, the guests were seated, places were reserved for plates were laid for them and an elegant bouquet placed at each place, according to the bride's directions. All was now ready for the appearance of those in whose honor the company had assembled, and the guests waited the appearance of the bridal party. But they had not long to wait. The announcement was soon made from the cabinet that the spirits were ready. The guests, one after another, were invited to the aperture where the lady and her husband were presented, both appearing with perfect distinctness and very life-like, receiving the guests pleasantly and entering freely into conversation with them. After this, one account says,

THE WEDDING DAY

THE BRIDE AND GROOM,

BOTH SPIRITS WALKED OUT OF THE CABINET,

across the room, and took the places prepared for them at the table. The bride wore an elegant heavy satin dress, white as the light, with the conventional flowing marriage veil and orange blossoms. The groom wore the regulation black broadcloth and white vest with full blown rose in the button-hole of the coat—though roses in this vicinity are done blooming. This would seem to prove that in the Summer Land the roses bloom perpetually. After receiving and narrating the particulars of the marriage—explaining how and where in the spirit world the ceremony had been performed—the bridal party put off the semblance of mortal body and earthly habiliments, which they had donned for the occasion, and betook them to their home in the spirit world, or, perchance, to their celestial wedding tour.

THE CONGRATULATIONS OF THEIR FRIENDS,

Our account of this extraordinary wedding is given from the most reliable reports that we have been able to obtain in relation to it. Our reporter had an interview with Prof. Mott at the depot Monday evening as he was leaving the city, and has also conversed with others who were there, and all the main facts narrated above may be relied upon by the reader as absolutely correct. There is considerable hard feeling among the Spiritualists of the city because so few of them were invited to be present on an occasion of so much interest, but as we have said above, the whole affair was intended to be strictly private, and we should not have felt at liberty to report it, full of interest as it is, were it not for the fact that a hundred silly rumors are afloat in regard to the occurrence, which can only be corrected by a plain statement of the facts—and such we have herein endeavored to give.

THE ONEIDA COMMUNITY.

Communist Noyes to be Arrested and Legal Proceedings to be Had.

[From the Syracuse Standard.]

The committee of clergymen to consider ways and means to abate the bad features of the Oneida community held another meeting at the house of Bishop Huntington last Thursday evening. We learned informally yesterday that a legal movement is in preparation against the communists. The committee has taken counsel with some of the best lawyers in this part of the State, and for the last four months, or since the February meeting, it has been quietly at work collecting testimony to be used in legal proceedings. Samples of the literature the communists at Wallingford and Oneida have been circulating through the medium of the United States mails have been sent to the committee and these are bad enough to be covered by the name of obscene. Other testimony of a more positive character has also been obtained, it is said, which stamps the Oneida community as [illegible] practices than the polyga[illegible]. On this latter testimony the [illegible] Noyes, the leader of these socialists, is to [illegible]ade and his trial is to be pushed by gent[illegible] who will be prepared to go to the very [illegible]ndation of this thing.

Much evidence has been received which it is not proper at this time to make public, as such publicity might defeat the movement. But the people of this part of the State may rest assured that the work is being done now. The buncombe and the rhetoric were all aired at the February meeting, where, said one of the committee to our reporter, nineteen-twentieths of those who talked had no real knowledge of the facts concerning the community. It is the bottom facts that we are after now and we are obtaining them. This community has no more right to an existence here than had Brigham Young in Utah. And Noyes is far worse than Young.

"Can you mention the laws that Noyes or his followers are breaking or have broken?"

"I could do so. We have the evidence now in our possession, but forewarned is forearmed, and we prefer to work up our case carefully. We do not want to have our witnesses spirited away when the time of trial comes."

"Will you state the time when arrests are to be made?"

"I can't do that, as that is one of the most important points and the exact time has not been set. But rest assured that warrants will be sworn out and the movement of February, which everybody has thought amounted to little or nothing, and the press of the State has been pleased to laugh at and call a faction, will mark the most important crusade that has ever been made against the sin of so-called American socialism."

JOPLIN LEAD.

New Mines to be Opened—The Old Ones Exhausted—The Lead Product.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

JOPLIN, MO., June 26, 1879.

This week has been spent in a flying visit to the mining interests of Southwest Missouri, and more especially in viewing Joplin's Capital.

For several years back this thriving little burg has added in no small degree to life in lead circles, but unless new interests are opened up soon, Joplin as a lead center will be a thing of the past.

The old mines seem to be nearly exhausted, and new ones will have to be opened up in order to supply the demand for lead. The quality of lead turned out here has served to make it stand high in market quotations, and it will be no small matter to see three-quarters of the mineral product sink away from this town. In order to prove this assertion we give below facts and figures. Figures never lie, and here they are:

In 1877 the average weekly production of the several mines was as follows:

Lone Elm, M. & S. Co., lbs	200,000
Paxton Lands, lbs	150,000
Granby Mines (Joplin), lbs	150,000
Joplin Mining and Smelting Co., lbs	200,000
Picher L. & Z. Co., lbs	150,000
Other mines	200,000
Total	1,050,000

The present average weekly production is as follows:

Lone Elm M. &S. Co., lbs	25,000
Paxton Lands, lbs	40,000
Granby Mines (Joplin), lbs, 30,000 to	40,000
Joplin M. & S. Co., lbs	20,000
Picher L. & Z. Co., lbs	40,000
Other mines, lbs	75,000
Total	$250,000

This shows conclusively that the Joplin mines proper are fast being worked out, and the present recent advance has stimulated the production but very little, as the ore is not in sight, and new mines must be developed before there will be an increase of production. The great falling off of the Joplin mines is in part made up by the production from the Short Creek mines in Kansas, and the Joplin smelters are at present principally run on Short Creek ore.

In conversation with the smelters of Joplin, we find that they are living in hopes that new mines will soon be opened up in this immediate vicinity. If such becomes a fixed fact, Joplin will once more assume her old prestige and business activity.

The above will be brought about should lead make any further advance, and such seems to be the indication, as the capitalists and speculators are buying all the pig lead and ore they can get their hands on, and this week 1,000,000 pounds of Short Creek ore was bought on a basis of 4 1-2c at St. Louis by Joplin smelters.

SPIKE.

OVER THE SEA.

The Saturday Review says: "The last, and perhaps, as he himself thought, the crowning triumph of Baron Lionel de Rothschild's life was to win the Derby."

Sir Wyville Thomson, the naturalist of the Challenger, and Professor of Natural History in Edinburgh University, is lying seriously ill under an attack of appolexy.

At a recent royal banquet at Copenhagen the guests were served with hock of the year 1495, kept in the royal cellars of the castle at Rosenborg, and which is only drunk as a curiosity, being so terribly acid that several lumps of sugar have to be added to each glass before it is drinkable.

The Emperor William was very happy and amiable upon the occasion of his golden wedding. His venerable face beamed, he had a kind word for everybody, and as the ladies and children among his royal relatives stooped to kiss his hand he insisted upon a more natural and affectionate salute.

The Earl of Beaconsfield recently said in the House of Lords: "I am perfectly free to admit that there is a difference between the Christian Sunday and the Jewish Sabbath, and I cannot agree with those who would extend to the observance of the Christian Sunday the rules and regulations of the Jewish Sabbath. If there be any who desire to do it, they will utterly fail to accomplish that purpose."

The Hotel de Ville, Paris, the reconstruction of which was begun in 1873, is approaching completion. The architects promise that by July the masonry will be completed as far as the cornice, in 1880 the roof and rough casting will be completed, and at the beginning of 1881 the Municipal Council and bureaus may again take possession of their old home. It is estimated that the sum originally appropriated for the building will not be exceeded. But the sum to be expended on statues and other works of art is still under discussion.

Prussian statistics go to prove that the price of wheat governs the births there. Most births occur in January and February; fewest in June and July. These Prussian provinces, which contain an unmixed German population of a comparatively high degree of civilization, have fewer births than the more mixed Polish provinces. Jews multiply less rapidly than Christians; a circumstance contrary to what has been supposed. On the other hand, they live longer. Since 1861 the average number of children to married women has been five. It used to be four.

The death of the Prince of Orange in Paris may, it is reported, be attributed to his own imprudence. He was shut up with inflammation of the lungs for ten days, but was pronounced out of danger and recovering, when he insisted upon going to the fete for the relief of the Szegedin sufferers. He was pale and weak, but he had promised to be present, and no entreaties could persuade him to return home until he chose. More than one friendly arm was linked in his and led him to the door, but he refused to go, and when at last he went, death had laid a certain hand upon him; acute bronchitis seized and killed him.

An invention has been patented in Germany which, should its practical application prove feasible, will add very greatly to the power of musketry fire. The invention consists of an apparatus, described as very simple in design and construction, by which an ordinary breech-loading rifle can, whenever it may be desired, be temporarily converted into a repeating arm. The apparatus holds ten cartridges, and can be carried by the soldier in his pocket. When necessary it can be fitted on the rifle in a moment, when the ten rounds can be fired just as rapidly as the same number of cartridges can be discharged from any magazine rifle.

The Emperor William is the fifth male member of the Hohenzollern family who has lived to celebrate his golden wedding. The first case was that of Johann, surnamed the Alchemist, born 1403, and who died in 1464. The three sons of Frederick William I. had also more than fifty years each of married life—namely, Frederick the Great, Prince Henry and Prince August Ferdinand of Prussia. Of the four sons of Frederick William III., three celebrated their silver weddings, and Prince Charles, brother of the present Emperor, who married the sister of the Empress, was within a day or two of the golden ceremony in 1877, when his consort died.

Newspaper Tramps.

[From the New York Herald.]

The difference between the real and ... bogus journalist is so great that it is alm... impossible to conceive how any one can be imposed upon in the matter. Real journali...s, the genuine article, are ladies or gentlemen, as the case may be; they pay their bills as other people pay them; their demeanor is, as a rule, that of well bred persons; they ask no favors in the way of free railroad or steamboat passes; they rarely mention the journals with which they are connected; they are not perpetually boasting of their influence or importance—of what they will or will not do. The tramp journalist, on the other hand, is exactly the reverse of the picture. He is heralded in society journals and in the local papers from place to place. All his movements, and those of his sisters and his cousins and his aunts, who generally accompany him, are announced from day to day and almost hour to hour. Newspaper notoriety of the cheap order is his stock in trade.

A Morphine Eater's Pet.

[From the Utica Herald, June 23.]

A lady offered $100 reward for the recovery of a pet white rat in the Syracuse Courier Saturday. The reporters learned that she was a morphine eater, and on a visit to her father, a respectable gentleman of Syracuse. The drug was taken to allay pain. After her arrival Friday, when under the influence of opium, the pet rat fell out of the bosom of her dress, where she was in the habit of carrying it, and was killed by market men. The lady says she cannot sleep till she has another pet rat, and has started for New York to obtain one. Her father says the rat was perfectly tame and devoted to its mistress, who is rational upon all other subjects except this pet and morphine or opium. She says she was robbed of valuable rings while under the influence of the drug, but added: "I can buy more rings, but will give $500 to regain my darling rat."

The Montgomery Guards.

ST. LOUIS, June 27, 1879.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your item in yesterday's paper in relation to myself is so far liable to a misconstruction as to justify me in saying that my order for the company to assemble at the Armory at 1 o'clock p. m. on Sunday was in pursuance of the unanimous concurrence of the company as expressed at its last meeting (on the preceding Wednesday evening). On Saturday evening late I was asked by an outsider to change the time to 10 o'clock a. m. I declined, and, in explanation thereof, stated that I desired the company to appear at its best, and that there was not sufficient time to notify the members. The First Lieutenant and First Sergeant performed the novel feat of issuing orders and countermanding all previous orders. The former is under arrest, and the latter is reduced to the ranks. I gave directions, of course, that the company accoutrements should not be touched until the company arrived, at one o'clock. The company sore-heads, of course, used the pretext to say that I had "gone back on the company," etc., when, as a matter of fact, my orders emanated from and embodied the wishes of the company. I drilled the company last night an hour prior to, and an hour subsequent to, the meeting at which the so-called "resolution of expulsion" was passed. Backed by the best elements of the company, I shall maintain discipline and see that its best interests are subserved. WM. P. HOURIGAN, Captain commanding Montgomery Guards.

HEALTH NOTES.—Statistics prove that twenty-five per cent of the deaths in our larger cities are caused by consumption, and when we reflect that this terrible disease in its earlier stage will readsly yield to a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup (costing 25 cents), shall we condemn sufferers for their negligence, or pity them for their ignorance?

ADDITIONAL COMMERCIAL.

Summer Pork Packing.

There has been but little abatement in the receipts of hogs at leading markets the past week, thus showing the capacities of the country for supplies of hogs to be greater than had been calculated upon by many operators. The good quality of hogs now being marketed is also suggestive of a continuance of fair supplies, and there is little if anything now to encourage any expectations of a decrease in July compared with same month last year, when the receipts were light, and if no increase is shown for this period this season the effect upon the general market will be somewhat stimulating. During the present week the aggregate number of hogs killed at Western packing points is about 160,000 against 165,000 for the previous week, and 140,000 for corresponding time last year, and the total from March 1 to date is about 1,830,000, or 180,000 more than at same date last year. Prices for hogs have been somewhat higher than previously, and close steady at some reduction from the highest point, but about 10c higher than a week ago. The product market has met with a check in its upward tendency, and a decline on meats of about ⅛c per lb from the highest point has occurred, but this has partly been recovered, and there is again a steadier and more confident feeling in the trade, while lard is meeting with but little attention just now, the views of buyers not being met by sellers. Compared with a year ago, Cincinnati prices for dry salted shoulders are 1¼c per lb lower, and sides ⅝c per lb lower, while lard is about 1⅜c per lb lower, and for hogs there is no important difference in price.

Special reports to the Cincinnati Price Current show the number of hogs packed at the undermentioned places since March 1, compared with same time last year, as follows:

[From the Missouri Democrat Aug. 15, 1865.]

SOMETHING PRACTICAL.—Dr. Whittier, No. 617 St. Charles street, having made private and chronic diseases the study of his life, has, regardless of expense, fitted up an establishment occupying a whole house, in which may be found consultation, waiting and office rooms; also an extensive laboratory and the purest drugs. The Doctor has been longer engaged here than any other so advertising, as the back files of our paper show.

[From the Missouri Republican, 1869.]

If experience, permanency of location, or facilities for curing disease are matters of importance, invalids should consult Dr. Whittier, 617 St. Charles street, whose practice is confined to special diseases.

PRIVATE matters cured safely, speedily, advice free; no matter who have failed; no fee until benefit, at old office, 705 Chestnut. Dr. Jacques, 9 to 7.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—By virtue and authority of a special execution issued from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court at the City of St. Louis, returnable to the October Term, 1879, of said court, and to me directed, in favor of the State of Missouri at the relation and to the use of Myer A. Rosenblatt, Collector of the city of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri, and against John L. Ganzhorn, Maria Ganzhorn, wife of John L. Ganzhorn, John D. Dare, trustee of Maria Ganzhorn, the Charter Oak Life Insurance Company, cestui que trust, and Robert S. Thomas, trustee, I have levied upon and seized the following described real estate, situated in the city of St. Louis and State of Missouri, and charged with the lien of tax bill on which this action is founded, and described in said execution as follows, to-wit: The following described real estate, situate, lying and being within the city of St. Louis, to-wit: Lot number one: A lot on Belle Glade avenue, being 50 feet in front or width and 142 feet and 2 inches in depth; and being lot 6 in block 4 in Prairie Place. Number two: A lot on Belle Glade avenue, being 50 feet in front, and 142 feet and 2 inches in depth, and being lot 7 in block 4 in Prairie Place; and I will on between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, sell at public auction, for cash, to the highest bidder, the above described property, charged with said lien, to satisfy said execution and costs.

TUESDAY, JULY 15TH, 1879,

JOHN FINN, Sheriff City St. Louis.
St. Louis, Mo., June 19, 1879. 224

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—Whereas, William Nash and Sarah, his wife, by their deed dated the 8th day of December, 1873, conveyed to James Nash in trust the following described real estate situated in the city of St. Louis, and State of Missouri, and described as follows, to-wit: Being in the continuation of Thornton D. Murphey's second addition, a subdivision in said county, a plat of which is of record in the Recorder's office of said St. Louis county, and being lot numbered forty-three (43) in block No. fifteen (15) of said addition, said lot having a front of twenty-five (25) feet on the south line of Cottage avenue by a depth of one hundred and twenty (120) feet to an alley fifteen (15) feet wide, and it being the same lot or parcel of ground acquired by the said William Nash of Charles Bobb, trustee for Mary A. Jackson, Leonora Field and Louisa Clary by deed bearing date October 30, 1872, and duly recorded in said Recorder's office, in Book 463, page 238; which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of a certain note therein described; and, whereas, the said note remains due and unpaid, and the said James Nash, said trustee, has departed this life without executing the trust in said deed specified; and, whereas, the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis did, on the 4th day of June, 1879, appoint John J. O'Neill trustee, to execute said deed of trust in lieu and place of said original trustee; now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, at the request of the legal holder of said note, and in pursuance of the provisions and for the purposes of said deed of trust, the undersigned will, on SATURDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, 1879,

between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, proceed to sell, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, to the above described real estate, to satisfy said note and the costs of executing said trust.

The Usual Quota of Misdemeanors Disposed Of.

Doings in the Police and Criminal Courts.

Kuhn's Bath.

Gus Kuhn had long promised himself that the first afternoon which found him at leisure would afford him the delights of a bath, and that opportunity came around on yesterday evening. He hastened to the river, disrobed and plunged in and disported himself in the water entirely oblivious to the fact that a party of ladies were witnessing his aquatic feats. A policeman hearing the good-natured giggles of the ladies went down to the water's edge, persuaded Gus ashore and took him into custody on general principles. The Court assessed a fine of costs on a hearing of the case this morning.

Ferris' Failure.

Henry F. Ferris procured the arrest of James Cunningham, this morning, on a charge of assault and battery. There has been considerable ill feeling between the parties for several months, and on yesterday Ferris concluded to give Cunningham a thrashing. He met his man shortly after arriving at that conclusion, and tackled him, but he had reckoned without his host, as Cunningham turned in and gave him a generous trouncing. Ferris then swore out a warrant for his enemy's arrest but immediately afterwards Cunningham was released on bond.

Gallagher's Game.

John Gallagher went home at 5 o'clock on yesterday afternoon and failed to find dinner awaiting him. John is a laboring man, and as a natural consequence was as hungry as a bear. He began abusing his better half for her lack of care in his welfare and wound up by cuffing her about the room at a lively rate. She called police, a star came, John was taken into custody, and on an examination before Judge Jecko this morning was fined $3 and costs. John will go to the rocks for just twelve days.

Lucky Lizzie.

Lizzie Long, a wanton, was discharged from the Court of Criminal Correction this morning, on an examination of assault to kill, preferred by Ida Fritz. The two characters got into an altercation at a bagnio a few days ago, which resulted in the plaintiff getting struck with a piece of broken glass, which cut her pretty seriously. There was some pretty tall swearing indulged in by both parties, and Judge Cady held that there was no case.

A Granger Gulled.

George Arnold appeared before Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes, in the Court of Criminal Correction, this afternoon, for the purpose of procuring the arrest of Annie Bassett, colored, on a charge of grand larceny. Arnold, who hails from Venice, Ill., came to town this morning and met the wicked Annie in the Third District. She took him to her den and succeeded in robbing him of $34. She will be arrested this afternoon.

A Bad Trio.

The case against John Lawler, Mike Lawler and Thomas McDermott, charged with robbery in the first degree in assaulting William Grimes, in the Third Police District, on the 13th inst., and stealing his watch, was continued generally by Judge Cady to-day, on the grounds that the prosecuting witness, who is a stranger, could not be found, having left the city.

For Assault and Battery.

Benjamin Lutson is under bond of $200 to answer before Judge Cady in the Court of Criminal Correction on the 8th of next month, to a charge of assault and battery. The plaintiff in the case is Edward Norris, who alleges that on last Saturday the defendant fell upon him without provocation at No. 221 North Third street, and gave him a terrible beating.

Mercer's Luck.

The case against George Mercer, charged with assault and battery in beating his wife, Louisiana Mercer, at their mutual residence, No. 3422 North Twelfth street, on the 13th inst., was called in the Court of Criminal Correction to-day and dismissed for want of prosecution, on the grounds of the woman's failing to put in an appearance.

Wicked Watson.

John Watson is in jail at the instigation of Officer Young on a charge of assault to kill, committed upon Bernard Schnaufel, on the 21st of the present month, on Almond street. Watson assaulted the plaintiff with a knife and cut him so severely about the face that he was sent to the City Hospital.

Continued Generally.

Mary Russell was so fortunate this morning as to have her case of petit larceny continued generally by Judge Cady. She was charged by Mary Johnson with stealing three dresses, all of the value of $15, from plaintiff's residence, No. 1007 Franklin avenue, on the 18th of the present month.

At Prosecutor's Costs.

A dread of publicity caused Margaret O'Neil to fail to come before Judge Cady this morning and prosecute the case against Bridget Carr of assault and battery, and so that worthy woman had her case dismissed for want of prosecution.

A Bond Forfeiture.

An alias capias was ordered issued by Judge Cady to-day in the case of Patrick Sullivan, a Constable, on a charge of extortion in office. An entrance of forfeited bond was also made.

First District Police Court.

A very light day in Judge Jecko's room, the cases docketed comprising only minor violations.

Kitty Smith and Alice Brooks, two Almond street nymphs, were assessed $10 each and costs for being drunk on the streets.

John Gallagher received a fine of costs for disturbing the peace of his neighborhood generally on yesterday afternoon.

Wesley Arnold was fined costs and $10 for carrying a concealed weapon in the shape of a revolver.

Mary Welsh, an idler and female tramp, will go to the rocks for a fortnight for lack of $5 and costs.

Gus. Kuhn, for bathing before dusk in the river, was taxed costs, which should have been stayed on account of his endeavors to keep clean.

Second District Police Court.

Thirty-five cases were docketed in this court to-day.

Seven cases for failing to keep clean the alley adjacent to the premises occupied by the defendants were nolle prosequied.

The cases of disturbing the peace were as follows: Jennie Randolph, discharged; Henry Meyers, Peter O'Brien, John B. Higgins and John Weishahn were assessed $5 each; Thos. White and Jno. Hagan paid costs; Catherine Flynn was assessed $10.

Three trespassers were assessed $10 each.

The collections amounted to $28.

Court of Criminal Correction.

Lizzie Long, assault to kill; defendant discharged.

George Mercer, assault and battery; dismissed at prosecutor's costs.

Bridget Carr, assault and battery; dismissed for want of prosecution.

Mary Russell, petit larceny; continued generally.

Patrick Sullivan, extortion in office; bond forfeited.

John Lawler, Mike Lawler and Thos. McDermott, robbery in the first degree; continued generally.

FINANCIAL.

The demand for money continues very light in all respects, and we see no change in the local situation to note since yesterday. City offerings are very light, and, in fact, outside of the demand for purely business discounts, there is almost nothing. The grain movement is restricted to very narrow limits, as is the case with produce generally, so that there is no demand on that account. In the country the wheat and other summer crops are yet between two seasons. Until the new crop begins to move freely there is not likely to be any special demand for bank favors. New York exchange is dull and almost nominal at 50@75c discount. There is very little comparatively making, but as there is no demand, the amount, whatever it may be, is about all surplus. On the street business was about as noted yesterday. There was a little trading in Government, and in an indifferent way in miscellaneous securities. Some Kansas Pacific bonds were offered, but we heard of no sales.

On 'Change.

The Henry Ames & Co. Packing and Provision Company have been experimenting recently upon a new process for smoking meat, and have apparently secured something which will revolutionize in a manner this department of business. The ordinary time required for smoking the Ames ham is eight to ten days. The company exhibited on 'Change to-day a ham which they had cured in eighteen hours. It was dry and perfectly cured, and in the opinion of those present was in every way ready for either storage or consumption. The flavor was simply delicious.

First Wheat from Kansas.

The first car of new wheat from the State of Kansas came in this morning. It was shipped by S. A. Brown & Co., from Independence, Kansas, to S. W. Cobb & Co., of this city, and sold to the Empire Mill Company for $1 05 per bushel. The sample was clean and handsome and easily inspected No. 2 red.

Breadstuffs and Provisions.

MORNING BOARD—9:30 A. M. TO 1 P. M.

Flour had a little more life than yesterday, and was steady; yet the demand was only moderate. Grades of choice, family and good xxx received the preference of buyers, and there was also some slight inquiry for good extra. We quote the closing rates: Fine $2 50@2 75; superfine, $2 90@3 25; x, $3 50@3 75; xx, $4 00@3 30; xxx, $4 50@4 75; family, $4 90@5 25; choice, $5 30@5 45; fancy, $5 60@5 90.

Wheat—Grades lower; No. 2 dull, with sales of 8 cars reg. and st. fr. at 98c about midday; at close, however, a speculative operator bid 99c for it. No. 3 in request on milling, shipping and speculative account, opening at 93@94c, advancing to 95@95½c, while bringing 95½c at very close; sales—1 car fresh reg. at 93c, 4 do and st. fr. at 94c, 7 do fr. reg. and st. fr. at 95c, 1 do st. fr. St. Louis at 95½c, 5 do do at 95½c. No. 4 dull—2 cars sold at 85c. Old winter samples scarce; sales—1 car selected No. 2 red at $1 01, 149 sks mixed better than No. 4 at 88c, 61 sks thin 85c. New winter samples show a healthier movement (but no activity, be it understood). Compared with yesterday's early sales of choice red, to-day's transactions were at 2@3c decline; but remembering that the market yesterday for choice red closed at $1 to sell, today's sales showed 2@3c advance thereon.

Corn—Grades—No. 2 mixed higher, but dull; a single car in C. sold ½c better at 34½c (more wanted in same house at that), and a 5,000 bu lot reg. St. L. ½c higher at 34c. No. 2 white-mixed sold ½c higher on call at 42c in St. Louis, but lost this advance later, a couple cars selling there at 41½c; was ½c higher in V. at 41c. Demand light; from millers alone. Rejected higher and in demand from distillers and order buyers—sold ½c better on call and immediately after at 32c, but was wanted at close at 32½c. Samples—No. 2 white-mixed dull on E. trk at 41@41½c; but in demand on this side at ¼@1c decline, selling at from 42c on trk early to 41½c on levee later.

Oats—Grades—No. 2 opened steady at 31c in E., but advanced later—closed at 31½c St. L.; demand fair, from feeders and order buyers. Sales: 1 car No. 2 in E. at 31c, 1 do in St. L. at 31½c, 1 do at 31½c, 1 do at 31½c; and 1 car rejected in E. at 29½c; No. 2 white nominally worth 32c at close.

FUTURES.

Wheat—The bulls seized the wet weather as a pretext for strengthening prices and the market jumped higher right at the opening. Although irregular, there was a fairly active movement until near the close, when things weakened a little and closed easy. Sales ranged as follows: July at 94⅛@96@95½c; August 91⅛@93@92⅜c; September 91⅜@93c; year 91¼c.

Corn—The market opened firmer and stiffened up a fraction with good trading on favorite deals, mainly August and September. At the close it eased off a little, closing quiet. July sold at 33⅝c, August at 34⅞@35@34 15-16c, September at 35⅜@35 7-16@35⅜c, year at 32½c.

Oats—Strong and higher all round, with a good movement and the market stiff to the close. Sales were all in August at 26⅞@27⅛c and September 25⅝@26⅛c.

AFTERNOON BOARD—2:15 P. M.

Wheat—Lower and unsettled. August in fair demand at 92c. July sold at 95@94⅞@94⅞c, and August at 91⅞@92c, nearly all at the latter.

Corn—Lower and dead dull. The only sale was of September at 35⅛c.

Oats—Also lower and dull, the only trading small lots of September at 26 7-16c to 26⅜c.

"TOO G...
TO BE GOOD!"

Before you utter such sentiments, please consider that there is a great difference in the way goods are bought. Those who buy small lots are compelled to get higher prices for their goods than those who buy several cases at a time. We allude at this time particularly to fine shoes for ladies, the majority of which are manufactured in the East, and are sold by agents representing the large houses there. We are enabled to buy the same goods as others. We pay for them with the same circulating medium. We sell probably three times the amount of any house in the city. Our expenses in comparison to our business are smaller than any retail house in town. Taking these facts into consideration, what is to hinder us from underselling others? We are satisfied with a small profit; we warrant all goods to be as represented; we refund the money whenever requested if there be anything wrong with the articles sold. We are bound to be courteous to all customers at all times. What more can we do? Special notice is called to a lot of hand-made turned shoes, which we have been selling a great many of. They have not proved as they were represented to us. Will those who have purchased same return them and take their money or new goods, as we mean to have everything satisfactory or no sale.

CATTLE—Business in the various branches of the cattle market slow and quiet this forenoon, and the moderate supply by the hour of noon had not all changed hands. Grass Texans and Indians found ready disposal early at steady prices, although some sellers contend values were a little weaker. There was but little doing yesterday afternoon, and the moderate supply of natives slow in going off at weak prices, the range being from $4 25@4 90 per 100 lbs. This forenoon native shipping cattle ruled slow, and sellers had to shade prices a little. Transfers in these only moderate and at prices ranging from $4 25@4 85 ₱ 100 lbs. The bulk of the light supply consisted of medium and rough native steers. Stock cattle and feeding steers dull as usual, with supply small and demand likewise. Common mixed native and Southwest butcher stuff, as cows, oxen, heifers, etc., dull and hard of disposal at very low prices. Milch cows with calves in abundance and dull. Veal calves in fair demand and limited supply. Outside of this there is nothing new to note. Ruling quotations weak and irregular.

HOGS—There was but little life witnessed in the hog market this forenoon, and the moderate supply slow in going off at slight declines, say 5@10c per 100 lbs on all grades. The attendance of buyers fair, but none of them exhibited any desire to operate to any great extent. Sales made were at $3 65@3 80 for Yorkers and Baltimores, and $3 70@3 90 for smooth heavy and select. Rough heavy were again dull and neglected. Skips and culls slow and weak. Without doubt sellers will succeed in working off their stock this afternoon, but at very weak prices. Values slow at $2 40@3 20 for culls, $3 25@3 50 for rough heavy, $3 60@3 80 for Yorkers and Baltimores, and $3 75@3 90 for smooth heavy and butchers.
